Risk and reward profile

Risk Disclaimer

- This current risk profile is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund.

- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time.

- The lowest category, which corresponds to Number 1, cannot be regarded as being risk-free.

- The Sub-Fund does not provide any capital guarantee or asset protection measures.

Why is this Sub-Fund in this category?

The Sub-Fund is a very high risk vehicle which aims to provide a long-term capital growth by investing in equities or equity related securities issued in Russia and other FSU Countries. Therefore, its risk/reward profile corresponds to the underlying volatility of the Russian equity market which accounts for the Very High-risk category of the SRRI scale.

Are there any other particular Risks?

Risks that could affect fund performance and are not necessarily fully reflected in the risk and reward rating include:

- Liquidity risks: The Sub-Fund may invest part of its assets in less liquid securities. Those are securities that cannot easily be sold or exchanged for cash without a substantial loss in value in certain market conditions. Those securities also cannot be sold quickly because of a lack of ready and willing investors or speculators to purchase the asset.
- Counterparty risks: The Sub-Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Sub-Fund.
- Credit risks: The Sub-Fund may invest a portion of its assets in debt securities. The issuers of these debt securities may become insolvent, which will mean that the securities will lose all or some of their value.

- Risks from the use of derivatives: The Sub-Fund may use financial derivatives instruments which may result in the Sub-Fund being leveraged and may result in material fluctuations in the value of the Sub-Fund. Leverage on certain types of transactions including derivatives may impair the Sub-Fund's liquidity, cause it to liquidate positions at unfavourable times or otherwise cause the Sub-Fund not to achieve its intended objective.

- Operational risks: The Sub-Fund may fall victim to fraud or criminal acts. It may suffer losses as a result of misunderstandings or mistakes by employees of the Management Company or by external third parties or may be damaged by external events, such as natural disasters.

- Russian Market Risk: Russian custodial institutions may have less responsibilities to investors and be subject to fewer regulations. Russian securities may also suffer from impaired efficiency and liquidity, which may worsen price volatility and market disruptions. Political risk such as sanctions may be significant.

- The Company operates an activist investor strategy and as part of this it is possible that the Company may become involved in litigation or other legal proceedings, either in its own name or derivatively on behalf of any underlying investment entity in order to protect its rights in any jurisdiction. The outcome of any such litigation or proceedings is inherently uncertain, can involve adverse costs orders and could materially and adversely affect the performance of the Company.
